HAS DONE ITS WORST.

And Now the Waters in Flooded Rivers is Receding.

Damage Done in Pennsylvania Was Great—People Driven to Second Stories of Their Homes.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 24.—The great flood has done its worst in this section and the waters are now receding. A cold wave which came up suddenly broke the back of the flood and the reports from all points between Pittsburg and the head waters this morning indicate that all danger has passed. The rivers in this vicinity reached a higher stage than at any time since 1884. At 10 o'clock this morning the water had fallen one foot, and from now on it will subside almost as rapidly as it rose.

Hardly a point in the Monongahela valley from Fairmont to Pittsburg escaped damage by the flood, and in many places the high water mark was covered. Mills built supposedly out of harm's way were submerged. Works along the river were shut down, and workmen forced to flee from the rising tide. The damage can only be approximated, but it is not less than $1,500,000 in the Monongahela valley.

From the headwaters of the Youghiogheny also came a torrent that brought with it destruction to valuable property. Railroads were unable to move trains, in some places the tracks being so far below the surface that the tops of gondola cars only were visible. The Pittsburg, McKeesport and Youghiogheny was entirely disabled, while trolley lines along the river banks were so badly wrecked that it will be several days before operations can be resumed. Besides several feet of muddy water and debris there are millions of dollars worth of valuable machinery. What ruin has been wrought can not be told until the waters recede.

Private houses built in the low lands in the suburbs have been flooded, in some instances within a foot of the second story windows, and are in danger of being twisted from their foundations. At any rate they will be unfit for habitation for weeks to come. The poorer classes who lived in small houses and shanties along the river banks, some of them only a few feet above low water mark, have been made utterly homeless, while the truck gardeners, having hot beds in the bottom lands, with early vegetables almost ready for the market, have been ruined.

In McKeesport the damage will exceed $500,000. Crooked creek, which in former high waters has been a harmless stream, rose to an unprecedented height, causing destruction to meadow lands for three miles back in the country. In this city the water covered Duquesne way from Ninth street to the Point. Steamboats were moored but a few feet from the entrance to the Hotel Boyer, and the exposition buildings were completely surrounded by water. On the north side (Allegheny), over 3,000 people were cooped up in the second stories of their homes all night, prisoners, their only means of escape being by boats. Without fire or food, they received chunks of bread and coffee and coal handed through their second storys windows by policemen in patrol boats instead of wagons. On Craig, Robinson, School, Roberts, Locock, Anna, Corry, Kilbuck and Daragh streets, and south avenues, the waters stood as high as the knobs on the doors. The following Allegheny manufacturing concerns have been rendered idle by water invading the premises: Anderson Porter company, Bissell & Co.'s stove works, Boyd & Boyd's trunk factory, Pittsburg and Western repair shops, Charles' nut works, Damascus Bronze Co., LaBelle Steel works, Lindsay & McCutcheon's mills, Pittsburg Forge and Iron works, Benson's Pump works, Union Salt works, Excelsior Coffin works, Leggate Spring and Axle works, McKinney's Hinge factory, Marshall Kennedy Flour mills, Callery's tannery, Groetzinger's tannery, Western Leather works, Hintz & Lutz Pickling establishment, Caslin Machine shops, Vogeley's saw mills and the Allegheny Illuminating Gas plant. On the south side the entire river front from Thirtieth street down was submerged. All the plants were under water and operations were entirely suspended. It will be several days before a general resumption can take place.

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio, Feb. 24.—It is expected that by noon half of the city will be under water. The river is fifty-eight feet, three inches and rising one-half inch an hour. About a thousand families have been compelled to move. Many houses are completely covered, and some have floated away.

ASHLAND, Ky., Feb. 24.—James Morgan, wife and child are reported drowned in the overflow of Beaver Creek, in Floyd county.

McKenna Banqueted.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—The complimentary banquet given at the Palace hotel last night to Joseph McKenna was a notable affair. Three hundred citizens of California, representatives of official and civil life, the profession, commerce and industry, assembled to give expression by their presence or voice, to the appreciation of the honor done this state for the first time in its history in the choice of one of its sons to a position in the cabinet of the president of the United States, and to ratify the choice made by the chief magistrate of the nation.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Feb. 24.—Specials to the Times-Star show continued damage by flood in cities up the river.

MAYSVILLE, Ky., Feb. 24.—The river is now rising two inches an hour. A portion of front street between Market and Limestone, is covered and there is water in many houses. The Chesapeake and Ohio railroad track has settled and slipped considerably.

Aberdeen, across from here, resembles a lake. Many people are compelled to move.

RIPLEY, Ohio, Feb. 24.—The river is fifty-seven feet high and rising two inches an hour. Weather clear and cold. The upper end of town is submerged and fully one hundred families have vacated their homes, while others are moving, some of them in boats. On East Second street, the water is three feet deep and the ferrymen are reaping a harvest, as the East Ripley people are compelled to cross in boats. Two more feet will bring it up in the business portion of town, when the damage will be incalculable.

SENSATIONAL SUIT.

Action to Recover Valuable Papers From Attorneys.

The Lawyers Demand $25,000 for the Documents—A Sequel to a $1,000,000 Case.

DULUTH, Minn., Feb. 24.—A sequel to the settlement of the sensational $1,000,000 Merritt-Rockefeller case has been brought to light by a suit filed in the district court by Alf and Lon Merritt, against A. A. Harris & Son, their attorneys, for the recovery of certain securities and letters and information of a valuable and private character, entrusted to the legal firm during the prosecution of the suits against Rockefeller and the American Steel Barge company. The complainants allege that in spite of the fact that they have offered to settle the defendants' claims for services rendered to March 1, they still refuse to relinquish the documents wanted.

The most sensational feature of the complaint is the claim that Harris & Son not only demand $25,000 in consideration of the delivery of the latter, but they threaten, if the sum is not paid or if the Merritts shall institute proceedings to cause them to turn the documents over, to use the information in their possession to the injury of the Merritts. It is alleged that Harris & Son will disclose the contents of the letters and other documents in their possession to persons holding interests adverse to the Merritts if not restrained by the courts. Judge Moore issued a temporary restraining order to prevent Harris & Son from disposing of the stock or disclosing the information contained in the documents. The defendants are required to show cause Saturday why the injunction should not be permanent as to disclosing information and why the stock and documents should not be turned over.

DECISIVE STEPS

Should Be Taken to Protect Americans in Cuba.

Resolution in the Senate to That Effect—Unconditional Release of Sanguilly is Demanded.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The senate began work at 10 o'clock today in order to push forward the appropriation bills. Mr. Vilas secured the passage of the house bill amending the postal laws so as to provide indemnity up to $10 for loss of registered mail matter. Mr. Quay moved to take up the bill extending the time for building the Duluth bridge, so-called, over the St. Louis river between Wisconsin and Minnesota, but Mr. Vilas opposing it, the motion was defeated, 17 to 29. This led up to several Cuban developments. Mr. Allen first opened that subject by offering the following resolution:

"Resolved, That it is the sense of the senate that the president should speedily and effectually protect the lives and liberties of peaceful American citizens residing or sojourning in Cuba and that he should promptly insist that Spain, in her war against her colonies in that island, should conduct the same on principles of civilized warfare, eliminating all unusual and unnecessary cruelty and barbarity, and for the enforcement of these reasonable and just requirements, United States battle ships should be sent without delay to Cuban waters."

Mr. Gray and Mr. Quay suggested that the resolution should go over until tomorrow and this order was made.

Mr. Hill offered the following resolution, which was agreed to without comment:

"Resolved, That the secretary of state be and he is hereby requested to transmit to the senate, either in open or secret session as he may prefer, all the correspondence and reports of the consul general of the United States at Havana relating to all American citizens now in prison in the Island of Cuba, not previously reported on."

With the adoption of this resolution, Mr. Morgan took the floor and presented from the committee on foreign relations the following joint resolution:

"That the government of the United States demands the immediate and unconditional release of Julio Sanguilly, a citizen of the United States, from imprisonment under the charges that are pending and that are being prosecuted against him in the military and civil courts of Cuba upon alleged grounds of rebellion and kidnapping contrary to the treaty rights of each of said governments and in violation of the laws of nations. And the president of the United States is requested to communicate this resolution to the government of Spain and to demand of that government such compensation as he shall deem just for the imprisonment and sufferings of Julio Sanguilly."

The reading of the resolution was followed with the closest attention by senators and Mr. Morgan said he would call it up tomorrow with a view to securing action.

When the Indian bill was taken up Mr. Quay took the floor in order to discuss the Duluth bridge bill. It caused some spirited comments between Mr. Vilas and Mr. Nelson. Mr. Nelson declared the bill merely asked an extension of time to build a bridge and means to communication between Duluth and Superior, and which gave employment to a large number of men. He characterized the opposition of Mr. Vilas as about the "most paltry and meanest" he could think of. It seemed to him plain words should be used, and he considered such opposition as partaking of a dog-in-the-manger policy. Mr. Vilas came back with the statement that Mr. Nelson was incorrect in his facts.

After further discussion the senate got back to the Indian bill.

BASE BALL.

The Magnates Attend a Schedule Meeting.

Take Up Quarters in the Rennert Hotel, Baltimore, and Proceed to Business.

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 24.—Members of the National league of base ball clubs have begun to arrive in Baltimore to attend the schedule meeting, which begins tomorrow morning. Rooms have been engaged at the Rennert, which will be headquarters of the magnates, and they are so arranged that New York, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, Boston and Chicago representatives will be together, while those who are present in the interest of the other clubs will have adjoining apartments. Thus it will be seen that the "big five" and the "little seven" will be arraigned against each other from the start. It is asserted that an olive branch will be extended to the "big five" in the form of an additional member of the board of control, thus giving both factions an equal representation in that highly important body, and thereby avoid the conflict so freely predicted.

The Bicycle Race.

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—The following is the score in the six days' bicycle race at 9:45 a. m.: Schinner, 858; Ashinger, 800; Miller, 798; Lawson, 747; Stewart, 729; Brall, 716; Hale, 616. Hale left the track at midnight and did not return until 8 o'clock this morning and then only for an hour. While Hale has not withdrawn he seems to have lost all interest in the outcome of the race.

At 12:15 the score in the six day bicycle race was as follows: Schinner, 881 miles; Miller, 833 miles; Ashinger, 832 miles; Lawson, 778 miles; Stewart, 752 miles; Smith, 718 miles; Hale, 617 miles.

CANEA AFIRE.

Incendiaries Have Applied the Torch.

The Governor's Palace Now in Ruins and Fires Elsewhere—The Situation Very Grave.

CANEA, Island of Crete, Feb. 24.—The governor's palace, with all the archives, was destroyed by fire today, and as fires broke out elsewhere in the town at the same time, it is suspected that incendiaries have been at work. The situation is most grave. Armed and excited Mussulmans are parading the streets full of indignation at the news from Selonis, where Mussulmans are besieged. The Benghazi Arabs threaten to burn the whole of Canea. While the palace was burning a strong box containing 7,000 pounds fell into the ruins and broke open, whereupon there was a wild rush of Turkish soldiers and Mussulmans to secure the treasure. The foreign marines were obliged to fire blank cartridges to restrain them and for a time a serious conflict between the Turks and Europeans was threatened. The admirals are about to issue a proclamation in all the towns and villages, explaining the reason for the presence of the foreign fleets in Cretan waters and exhorting tranquility. This view is spreading with the population, which is so divided in inveterate hatred, that such foreign action is mutual. The best plan, it is argued, is to permit the Greek troops to occupy the country and escort the besieged Mussulmans abroad, for the Mussulmans cannot remain in Crete. The suggestion of the consuls that a foreign force be landed at Selonis in order to cover the retreat of the beleaguered Mussulmans has not been adopted, owing to the available number of marines being insufficient. In view of the large force of the insurgents, the admirals have decided to confine their action to the dispatch of warships to Selinos. The attacks of the insurgents continue at various points. The insurgents have descended into the plain behind the convent of Chrysophighi and have set fire to Mussulmans' houses.

MAJOR M'KINLEY

Rapidly Recovering From an Attack of Grip.

The Bars Still Up Against Office Seekers Who Call to Present Their Wants.

CANTON, Ohio, Feb. 24.—While Dr. Phillips insists that the president-elect must not receive visitors, but continue resting from the unceasing work of the past fourteen months, Major McKinley continues to gain in strength, although not yet fully recovered from the lassitude after his attack of the grip. The unceasing wonder of his friends is that he so long survived the constant strain of the months during the unparalleled campaign, through which he has passed and during which he greeted more than a million people. It is with difficulty now that he can be induced to decline to see his callers. But his physician is emphatic in the statement that he owes it to himself, his family and his country to take some little respite from constant exertion before his inauguration and assuming the duties of president.

Dr. Phillips said at noon that Major McKinley was gradually recovering his usual strength. National Chairman Hanna, who was a guest over night, was the only visitor at the McKinley home. He left for Cleveland at 12:30 p. m.

MARVIN KUHNS.

The Desperado, Played Seven Up at the Ohio Prison

For a Watch and $14—His Opponent Claimed to Have Won, But Marvin Secured the Stakes.

Marvin Kuhns, the murderer, whose desperate fight with Officers Tom Wilkinson and John Kennelly at the time of his capture at Churubusco, in this county, is so well remembered, is unable to shake off his high-handed methods of getting property which does not belong to him, as is shown by a scene which occurred at the Ohio penitentiary, where Kuhns is now serving a life sentence. The Cleveland Leader describes it as follows:

"Two convicts playing seven-up for stakes, shortly before divine worship today, has created another sensation at the penitentiary. Marvin Kuhns, the noted outlaw, who is serving a life sentence, was one of the parties to the trouble that followed the game. The name of the other convict, for some reason, is kept a profound secret by the officials.

"The stakes were a watch and $14 in money. When the game was finished, both men claimed the booty. Kuhns grabbed the other convict by the throat, secured the money and the watch and pocketed both. The victim of Kuhn's forcible methods informed Warden Coffin. An investigation was immediately set on foot, the property of the victimized convict restored and Kuhns reduced and punished. The investigation by the officials will be pushed further with a view to finding out just how prevalent gambling is behind the grim, blank walls of the big prison."

TWO FIRES.

Hotel at Syracuse, N. Y., Destroyed—Flames at St. Louis.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Feb. 24.—The Ringland house, Oswego and six adjoining smaller buildings were destroyed by fire at 3 o'clock this morning. There were thirty guests in the hotel at the time, who were rescued by the police and firemen. The loss will amount to $75,000.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 24.—At 2:30 a. m. flames were discovered breaking forth from the roof of the Merchants' Exchange building, which occupies two-thirds of the block, on Third street, bounded by Chestnut and Pine. The fire started in the elevator shaft. The flames were under control by 3:30 o'clock. The damage is confined principally to the eastern, or office portion of the building and was mostly caused by water with which the roof was flooded. All the offices on the top floor were destroyed.

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—Fire broke out early this morning in the Park Gate hotel, at the World's fair terminus of the elevated railroad and threatened for awhile to destroy the building. The flames were finally brought under control with a loss not to exceed $25,000. Many of the fifty-eight families living in the building had to be assisted out by the firemen.

WILL PAY TITHES.

Association at Anderson to Give a Tenth of the Members' Earnings.

ANDERSON, Ind., Feb. 24.—The Anderson Tithing association, nonsectarian, has been formed in this city. The organization was effected in due form, and officers have given proper security. The membership is composed of all classes and all ages. Many manufacturers and men of capital stand among the laborers and the children who make up the membership, and all have pledged themselves to give one-tenth of their earnings during the coming year. This sum is to go to a common fund and is to be expended in charity and in fostering and planting such institutions as will raise the moral standard of the city.

PROHIBITIONISTS APART.

Two Branches of the Party in Indiana Hold Separate Meetings.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 24.—The branches of the prohibition party hold separate meetings in this city after unsuccessful efforts of their state committees to consolidate the party. The "regulars" adopted resolutions setting forth prohibition as the main hope of the nation, and elected L. H. Crist chairman of their state committee. The "national" branch elected J. M. Dunlap chairman. Both factions outlined plans for future work, which include the organization of clubs and the spreading of the doctrine.

WILL CLOSE DOWN.

Some of the Rubber Factories are To Be Idle.

BRISTOL, R. I., Feb. 24.—The works of the National India Rubber company will close about March 6, owing to lack of orders and prospects of a dull rubber market for several months. The employes have been looking for a shut down, and were not surprised when a notice to that effect was posted. Several other rubber factories in the New England states are expected to close down this month.

SIX WERE KILLED

By a Nitro Glycerine Explosion in Scotland.

PAISLEY, Scotland, Feb. 24.—An explosion of nitro-glycerine has taken place at Noble's dynamite works, Ayrshire. Six persons were killed and several were injured. The explosion was heard here, fifteen miles from the works, and the concussion extinguished the gas lamps at Kilwinning, three miles away.

HERE TO BID.

Many Contractors Figuring on the New Court House.

It is Likely That There Will be Fourteen Bids on the Entire Structure—Bids to be Opened Tomorrow.

The hotel corridors are swarming with contractors today, and as the bids for the new court house will be opened tomorrow, there is some pretty lively figuring. There are twelve outside general contractors and two of this city. The only bids submitted from here for the entire job will be those of Christian Bosker and John Suelzer. About one hundred sub-contractors are here to figure with the general contractors for the furnishing of stone, the plumbing and various other items. Competition is sharp and, notwithstanding that there is some pooling of interests, it is predicted that the general contract will be let at a lower price than at first expected.

The county commissioners will open the bids tomorrow afternoon. The lowest bidder will get the contract, all things being equal.

ONLY HARD CIDER!

But It Got Several Leo Lads Gloriously Drunk.

Mahlon Gaylord Arrested for Selling to Minors—Maysville Liquor Case.

A warrant has been sworn out in Justice France's court against Mahlon Gaylord, of Leo, for selling intoxicating drinks to minors. Last Saturday he dispensed hard cider to several Leo boys, one of them Ben Moore, and they got gloriously drunk. Young Moore came to the city and made affidavit against Gaylord and he will be arrested.

George Waite, a saloonkeeper at Maysville, is charged with selling liquor without a license. An affidavit to that effect has been sworn to before Justice France and he will be arrested. The prosecution is instigated by the Good Citizens' league of Maysville.

In the case of Doyle against the Nickel Plate, for the killing of a horse and cow, the plaintiff was given a judgment of $110 by the circuit court jury. Will and Ben Ninde were the plaintiff's attorneys.

In the bastardy suit against Dietrich Schwegel by Emma Herris, the latter was given a judgment of $100.

Judge O'Rourke sent Wm. F. Lehman to the reform school.

ALMOST A RIOT

At a St. Paul Mass Meeting—Want Work, Not Charity.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 24.—There was almost a riot at a mass meeting of the unemployed at Market hall last night. The city council recently appropriated $10,000 to be used in relief work, and the meeting last night was in protest of the way the sum was being expended.

K. G. Smith, who has been prominent in relief work, was hooted and yelled at in his attempts at explaining the system of distributing the relief. After much excitement and many violent speeches, resolutions were adopted which, after declaring the unemployed wanted work and not charity, further resolved:

"That we will do our utmost in the next municipal election to retire to private life the mayor, and members of the council who have delegated to a charitable organization a duty they are paid to perform."

Another resolution called for a committee of five to call on the legislature next Friday afternoon with all the unemployed to be induced to accompany it and ask the legislature to do something for those out of work, which also passed.

Prof. William Miles is director of the chorus, and the society has already over 100 active members and promises to be a permanent and creditable institution of our city.

Mrs. W. H. Dreier entertained the L'Orphelin club this afternoon.

A DEED OF BLOOD.

Foul Murder of Henry Gladden at Delphos, Ohio.

Roy Pritchard, a Youth, is Accused of Committing the Crime and is Locked Up—Sensational Case.

A telephone message was received from Delphos, Ohio, this afternoon to the effect that Roy Pritchard, an eighteen-year-old youth of that place, has been arrested and locked up, accused of the crime of murdering Henry Gladden, a farmer, living a few miles from the town.

The deed was committed two weeks ago, since which time detectives have been at work on the case. It is said to have been a most dastardly crime, the victim having been shot from ambush. Excitement runs high at Delphos and the prisoner is closely guarded.

"PAIR OF KIDS."

An Interesting Drama Enacted in Real Life in This City.

Johnnie Dobbs and Willie Cants Assisted on a Westward Journey by the Township Trustee—Some of Their History.

Trustee Schmetzer had the "Pair of Kids" played in real life in his office this morning. The actors were Johnny Dobbs, aged fifteen, and Willie Cants, aged eleven. Both lads were born in Pennsylvania. Having become incorrigible, they were sent to a reform school, but they ran away from the institution so frequently that the authorities of the school were made to feel that life was becoming a serious burden. It was agreed to let Johnny Dobbs and Willie Cants go to the demnition bow wows, but instead of going there they selected a route to Chicago. They secured a freight train pass, signed and sealed by themselves, and started for the western metropolis. In this city the special officers of the Pennsylvania company detected the young tramps and took them in charge. They told the story of how they had strewn thorns in the path of the managers of the reform school, and they told it so straight that a telegram replying to an inquiry made by Superintendent Gorsline verified everything. Such boys were beyond the capacity of Fort Wayne's corrective institutions and the boys were fixed up with transportation as far as Columbia City. They left in high glee as it was the first "palace car" ride they had been treated with since they left their home. It is safe to say that they will reach Chicago, the Mecca they are seeking.

POLICE NOTES.

There was no police court this morning.

Tony Snyder, who was held awaiting a warrant from Marion, was released last night upon the habeas corpus proceedings. Snyder has left town, supposedly to Ohio.

SWEEPING DECISION.

Saloons May Be Prohibited Within Residence Sections.

City Council Has Power to Pass an Ordinance for This Purpose—A Case From Muncie.

The decision of the supreme court yesterday in the case of John Shea against the city of Muncie makes it possible to exclude saloons from the residence portions of cities.

The city of Muncie passed an ordinance for that purpose, which was to be operative even in the case of persons already holding licenses. John Shea held both city and county licenses, for which he paid $250 and $100, respectively. After the ordinance was passed he continued to keep his saloon in the residence portion of Muncie, and was prosecuted for a violation of the ordinance.

His case was carried higher and yesterday the supreme court sustained the city, ruling that a city organized under the general law has power to exclude by ordinance saloons from residence portions of the city, even though the saloonkeeper already holds licenses to sell liquor at such places.

A license, the court held, is a mere permit which may be revoked at the need of the public good, and the court held that there is nothing more sacred in the liquor business than in any other business which threatens the peace and morals of the community. It held that it is the duty of the police department to regulate matters pertaining to the safety of a city, and that this duty and power is not abrogated by any contract made by the city. The legislature has granted the city power to dissolve a contract when that contract is found to interfere with the rights of the public.

The court held that the Nicholson law does not repeal the Moore bill, passed by the legislature of 1895, and that the latter is not unconstitutional. It further held that the residence portion of a city includes any parts of it which are chiefly used for residence purposes, and that the character of any part of a city is fixed by the chief use to which it is put, no matter if there be other business carried on therein.

OLD BOZ IS DEAD.

Death of a Famous Dog at San Antonio, Texas.

Old Boz, the famous and world renowned sable Scotch collie, died at San Antonio, Texas, a few days ago. The dog was valued at $10,000 and is well known to many lovers of the canine in this city. He has traveled all over the world. He once slept in Windsor Castle and was petted by Queen Victoria. The Prince of Wales offered $5,000 for him after witnessing his marvelous tricks. The dog walked through the Vatican. He was entertained by the president of France, the czar of the Russians, King Oscar, of Norway and Sweden. In fact, he has been to almost every foreign court and has received the attention of dignitaries in every department of life's activity in this and other lands. President Cleveland stroked his shaggy coat in the white house. He belonged to D. H. Harris, the stock breeder, at Mendon, Mich., and was fourteen years of age at his death. The dog was never on public exhibition, but was the traveling companion of his owner, who took supreme delight in showing the animal to his friends.

THE RANDALL SOLD.

Hotel Business Passes Into the Hands of Outside Parties.

Genial Dick Townsend Retires and Will Engage in the Same Business Elsewhere—Transfer Effective Next Week.

This afternoon the papers were signed up for the transfer of the Randall hotel business the change to be effective on March 1.

Dick Townsend sold to Frank W. Bedard and Joseph W. Irwin the lease, furniture and fixtures for $19,300. The building, which is owned by P. A. Randall, was not included in the deal.

The buyers are old hotel men. Mr. Bedard, more popularly known as Captain Bedard, has long been identified with the Gore European hotel, of Chicago. Mr. Irwin is at present the proprietor of the Capitol hotel at Little Rock, Ark., which he may decide to continue under another management. Both gentlemen will give their personal attention to the affairs of the Randall, and with their long experience will undoubtedly make their venture a grand success. Their lease covers a period of fifteen years. They say that they have come to Fort Wayne to stay.

The Randall hotel was opened on the first day of June, 1890. Soon afterwards Dick Townsend took the reins and the hostelry became at once a popular stopping place for the traveling public. "Stop with Dick" became a by-word which was carried all over the central states. Drummers made their dates fit so that they could strike "Wayne" for one of Dick's famous dinners on Sunday, for he never failed to give the boys a good time. Now and then he steered them into church, and they liked it. For these and various other reasons Dick Townsend's departure from the scenes he has made cheerful by his personality will cause keen regret to his hundreds upon hundreds of friends. His future is not decided, but he has several opportunities to engage in the same business elsewhere. Next Sunday evening Dick will give his friends a farewell dinner, and this will mark his retirement from the Randall.

Mr. Townsend leaves with his successors his good will and best wishes for their success. Messrs. Bedard and Irwin are very pleasant gentlemen to meet and must certainly prove popular landlords.

AFTER due consideration General and Mrs. Harrison decided not to name their baby daughter "Ruth," but selected instead the name "Mary Elizabeth." Mary is the name of the child's mother and Elizabeth that of Mrs. Harrison's sister, wife of Lieutenant Parker, of New York. The public can feel certain that it will be kept informed about Mary Elizabeth's propensities for keeping her papa and mamma awake at nights for having bestowed upon her such a common-place, old-fashioned name.

THERE are lots of base ball cranks in this city, and, as the season for opening the games is near at hand, they want the news concerning the national game and especially that about our own league. This THE SENTINEL is giving its readers. The coming base ball season promises to be an interesting one, and it looks now as if Fort Wayne would have one of the strongest teams in the Inter-State league.

Halt Spanish Murders.

It appears to be settled beyond dispute that Dr. Ricardo Ruiz, an American citizen, was murdered in a Cuban jail by the Spanish officials in charge of the prison. It is not pretended that he had committed any act of violence to warrant a murderous assault upon him by his jailors, but apparently without any provocation whatever his head was battered into a jelly. Every effort was made to have the body buried without Consul General Lee being able to ascertain the facts, but Lee promptly demanded full information of the case, and it was only after several days' delay that he was enabled to get access to the body, when it was just on the point of burial in a pine coffin by a number of negroes in the employ of the Spanish authorities.

Secretary Olney has made demand upon the Spanish authorities in Havana and also in Madrid for a full explanation and prompt investigation of the death of Dr. Ruiz, and General Lee seems to be so entirely satisfied that deliberate and cold-blooded murder has been committed by the Spanish jailor that he has pressed the investigation with the utmost earnestness, and the Spanish government will doubtless be brought to bay and the facts fully and indisputably established.

There are a dozen of American prisoners held by the Spanish authorities in Cuba, and a number of them have been held for many months and some as much as nearly two years. The plain obligations of the treaty between Spain and the United States as to the treatment of citizens of this country have been violated by the Spanish government in the most atrocious way by the imprisonment and punishment of American citizens, and it is high time that a peremptory halt is called upon Spanish murders.

The case of Dr. Ruiz presents the issue directly and the Spanish government must meet it face to face. There can be no explanation given for the murderous beating of a helpless prisoner, and it would not have been done by a jailer unless he felt assured that he was doing just what his superiors expected of him. This murder of Dr. Ruiz was simply a part of the policy of Spain toward American citizens, who are only guilty of following their natural inclinations in sympathizing with the insurgents; and unless this murderous policy shall be absolutely halted, the United States government must, in justice to its dignity and its citizens, take possession of Cuba and enforce the laws of civilized warfare and compel the fullest reparation from Spain.

We have reached a point in the history of the Cuban war when the rights of Americans must be protected. There is not an American citizen in Cuba who is safe from the fiendish policy of Weyler, and there is not a dollar of the more than $30,000,000 of American property in Cuba that has the slightest protection from the Spanish government. The issue has come in such a form that it cannot be evaded, and the prompter and more emphatic our government shall be in demanding the fullest justice to American rights in Cuba, the sooner will Spanish barbarity be ended on that ill-fated isle.

A Message of Help for Sick Children.

It is a fact that our people have heretofore not had the same opportunity for having their children who suffer from chronic or lingering complaints treated and cured by eminent specialists in children's diseases as do the residents of the great cities where such skilled physicians reside. Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th street, New York city, who is beyond doubt the most successful specialist in curing diseases of children, offers to give free consultation by mail in all cases of children's complaints. Write Dr. Greene immediately about your child. It certainly can be cured.

The Inter-State Schedule Committee to Meet at Akron.

Dayton Will Probably Open the Season With Fort Wayne in this City—Notes of the Diamond.

President Power, of the Inter-State, will call the schedule meeting of the league about the middle of March. The meeting will be held at Akron, it being centrally located. The schedule committee will consist of Torreyson, of Dayton, Anderson, of Youngstown, and Strobel, of Toledo. It will begin at once to draft a schedule.

The first game will be between Toledo and Springfield, at Toledo; Dayton with Fort Wayne, at Fort Wayne; Wheeling with Akron, at Akron, and New Castle with Youngstown, at Youngstown.

With five of the eight Inter-state league clubs situated in Ohio, it seems to be as near an Ohio institution as it is possible to make it, and the remaining three clubs, Fort Wayne, Wheeling and New Castle, being just across the Ohio line, the "jump" from one place to another will not be so long, and a decided improvement on last year's make up, when Youngstown, New Castle, Wheeling and Washington had to make long and tedious trips to Jackson and Saginaw, Mich.

Captain Scheible has a line out for another player who will complete the team for Youngstown, providing Pitcher Brodie signs. Unless he signs within a day or two the management will lay his case before the National league and insist that he be placed on the bench for a year because of his conduct in signing with Newark when he was fully aware of the fact that he had been reserved by Youngstown.

The selection of Akron as the eighth city of the Inter-State league meets with the hearty approval of the different managers as they consider it a much better base ball town than Mansfield. It is almost twice as large and the people are showing an interest in the game which promises good results in the way of patronage. Mansfield, however, would have been a good substitute and the more enthusiastic fans there have not yet given up the hope of securing the team.

Mr. Moyes is negotiating for two crack players to be added to Fort Wayne's galaxy of stars. They are McKevitt, who was Saginaw's center fielder last season, and Joe Ganzel, who was first baseman for the same club. Both are hard hitters and strong players in their positions.

Wheeling News: "There are but two teams in the league which have not about secured a complete list of players. These two are Wheeling and Akron, but as far as the Wheeling team is concerned it can be stated that the management have lines out for the men to fill up and expect to complete the team in a very short time. They have secured three pitchers and with the fourth which they are now after signed, they will be on easy street. The in and outfielders have not all signed, but they have several good men to select from."

A meeting was held last night by local base ball players to organize a team to play for the local championship. Officers were elected and players chosen for the club, which will be known as the Robison Park team. The officers are: Manager, Vine Robbins; captain, F. Philabaum; secretary and treasurer, C. Millhouse. The players who will compose the team are: F. Philabaum, C. Millhouse, J. Braden, F. Lauer, J. Eisley, Al Schrantz, Vine Robbins, Lloyd Judy, John Doyle, H. Thomas, E. Kickley and Frank Schmuck.

Manager Scheible, of the Youngstown team, yesterday received signed contracts from James F. Baldwin, of Chicago, pitcher, and E. C. Blue, of Kalamazoo, Mich., catcher, the latter recommended by Ganzel, of the Bostons.

Toledo Bee: "It looks as though the Fort Wayne Inter-state club will be the Indianapolis 'farm' this season."

SYLVESTER M'MAHON

Well Known Citizen Made Councilman-at-Large.

Regular Meeting of the Council Last Evening—Renumbering of Streets and Other Business Before the Municipal Body.

Probably the most interesting business before the council last night was the resignation of R. J. Fisher as councilman-at-large and the appointment of his successor. The resignation was read and Mayor Scherer immediately announced the appointment of Sylvester McMahon, of the Sixth ward, to fill the unexpired term. Mr. McMahon is a conductor of the Pennsylvania railroad, and was a candidate from the Sixth ward against Mr. Glenn. The appointment is one that gives satisfaction to the large circle of friends of Mr. McMahon.

The committee on streets reported against making any change in the location of the city markers, and recommended that they remain as at the present time, and the report was concurred in.

The Fort Wayne Relief union asked a remission of the taxes on lot 32, Ayer's addition, the same being used for charitable purposes. Referred to the committee on finance.

A resolution was introduced looking to renaming certain streets of the city, several thoroughfares in different parts of the city having the same name. Councilmen were instructed to report from each ward, by the next meeting, any duplicates they might know.

An ordinance looking to the renumbering of the houses of the city was introduced and referred to the committees on streets and rules, regulations and ordinances. The proposition is to renumber according to the plan that makes each square an even hundred.

After the resolution accepting Councilman Fisher's resignation had been disposed of, Mr. John Mohr arose and made a humorous and unique speech. Councilman Mohr can do this in the latest approved style, and he succeeded last night. He said he regretted Mr. Fisher's decision to separate from his colleagues. His absence, Mr. Mohr contended, will disorder affairs. The dog ordinance, for instance, will go to the dogs. The flying paper ordinance will not be worth the paper it is written on, and where is the chevalier who will take care of the ladies? The impudent street sprinklers will cover the street crossings with water and the mire resulting therefrom will bedraggle the immaculate skirts of the fair sex with mud. "But," said Mr. Mohr with much emotion, "Mr. Fisher is going from us perhaps forever. We part with him with a high sense of official and personal loss. He has been a faithful public servant. His relations with every man have been pleasant and honorable and I feel that I voice the sentiment of this body in wishing him God speed and prosperity."

INDIANA LEGISLATURE.

Business Done by the Solons at Yesterday's Session.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 24.—The senate yesterday took up the McCord building and loan bill, a duplicate of the measure that passed the house, and spent the rest of the day in amending it. It knocked out the section authorizing the auditor of state to make examinations upon demand of ten stockholders, and made a few other amendments, but this was the only vital feature of the bill attacked.

The house spent very nearly the whole day considering a mass of insurance legislation upon second reading. One of these, a blanket bill regulating foreign insurance companies, was amended in some particulars and sent to third reading. A hard fight arose over an amendment offered, declaring the "board plan" unlawful, and it was only withdrawn after assurance was given that the Sutton bill, drawn for this purpose and applying to all kinds of insurance companies, would be pushed. A blanket bill for the organization of home mutual companies, one of the Commercial club series, was killed, partly from the belief that it would interfere with farmers' mutual companies and partly from the fact that it contained many inconsistencies and duplications. For the same reason another bill providing for the organization of home joint stock companies was also killed.

The house was about to tomahawk another blanket bill for the organization of life and accident companies on the assessment plan, when its friends succeeded in having it recommitted to the insurance committee. Another bill providing a standard form of policy, such as is in use in Massachusetts and New York, was permitted to escape after some amendments that bear rather heavily upon the insurance companies.

The most important of these is one providing that both appraisers shall be residents of the counties where the loss occurs.

After finishing with the insurance bills on second reading the house passed a bill exempting farms within the limits of towns or cities from corporation taxes and the Remington dog-tax bill, which permits any person to kill a dog that is known to have ever chased or worried a sheep or any other live stock or fowl.

BRILLIANT AFFAIR.

Mathilda Ledyard Marries Baron Von Kettler.

Distinguished Citizens of Two Nations Witness the Ceremony and Congratulate the Bride and Groom.

DETROIT, Feb. 23.—Mathilda Cass Ledyard, daughter of the president of the Michigan Central railroad, was married at noon today to Baron Clemens August Von Kettler, German minister to Mexico. The ceremony was performed in Peter's and Paul's church by Bishop Foley, assisted by Father Schaefer, rector of the parish. Although the wedding was intended to be unostentatious, a large crowd was present. The bride wore a white satin gown. The bridesmaid was Miss McMillan, daughter of Senator McMillan, and the groom was attended by Adolph Von Bruening, second secretary of the German embassy at Washington. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to about seventy guests at Mr. Ledyard's residence, on Jefferson avenue. The prevailing color in the decorations was green. Later the baron and baroness left for the east and will shortly begin their residence in Mexico. A civil marriage was also performed yesterday at the bride's home by a justice of the peace, at which the Episcopal marriage service was read. The bride is a Protestant, the groom a Roman Catholic. Among those present was Baron Thielman, German ambassador at Washington.

Some English Cigars.

"I am informed," says a correspondent, "that a large trade in the manufacture of English cigars is carried on, principally in the east end of London. All the ends of cigars and cigarettes, dottels, chewed quids, etc., are bought at so much per pound from public houses, music halls and other places besides those picked up in the street. These savory morsels are put into a large bath, where a kind of tobacco broth is made.

"In the early autumn, when the chestnut leaves are beginning to turn a golden color, parties are organized, who go wherever they can get a supply of these leaves, which are then put on long wires and immersed in this filth for either a long or short time, according to the requirements of a strong or mild cigar. These leaves are then rolled into cigars."

The above correspondent's statement tallies with an incident which occurred some years ago when a certain person was charged with illegally manufacturing cigars. His defense was that the cigars that he manufactured did not contain a particle of tobacco. And, what is more, he proved his case. His cigars were made of brown paper, embossed to look like leaves and steeped in tobacco juice.—Pearson's Weekly.

Tremendous Force In a Steam Boiler.

A writer in a popular journal, in the course of an article showing the great amount of force developed by the steam generated in a boiler, says: What a tremendous force is struggling to tear a boiler to atoms! Take, for example, a horizontal tubular boiler of ordinary proportions, 60 inches in diameter by 16 feet long, containing 83 1-inch tubes. Such a boiler has a surface of 40,716 square inches. Suppose this boiler is operated with a working pressure of 100 pounds per square inch, which is not at all uncommon. The boiler, therefore, sustains a total pressure of 4,071,600 pounds, or more than 2,035 tons! Do we realize what this means? The boiler has resting upon it the equivalent of a column of granite 10 feet square and 251.5 feet high, or, to put it another way, the boiler is holding up the equivalent weight of 22,620 persons, each weighing 180 pounds. The best authorities agree that the ordinary draft horse, working eight hours a day, exerts an average force during that time of 120 pounds. Now, this force acting to disrupt the boiler longitudinally is 226,200 pounds, so that to produce an equivalent stress it would be necessary to hitch up to each end of the boiler a team of 1,885 horses.

A Silkworm Romance.

The king of Khotan, in central Asia, made overtures for the hand of the daughter of the emperor of China, and his suit was favorably entertained. But there was something from China which he coveted even more than the fair princess and which he had failed to win by war. So he induced his bride elect to secrete in the long tresses of her hair a number of silkworm eggs and seeds of the mulberry plant when she came to him, and in that romantic fashion was it that the culture of the silkworm and the manufacture of silk took their first step westward.—New York Telegram.

To Cure Nervous Dyspepsia.

To Gain Flesh, to Sleep Well, to Know What Appetite and Good Digestion Mean, Make a Test of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Interesting Experience of an Indianapolis Gentleman.

No trouble is more common or more misunderstood than nervous dyspepsia. People having it think that their nerves are to blame and are surprised that they are not cured by nerve medicine and spring remedies; the real seat of the mischief is lost sight of; the stomach is the organ to be looked after.

Nervous dyspeptics often do not have any pain whatever in the stomach, nor perhaps any of the usual symptoms of stomach weakness. Nervous dyspepsia shows itself not in the stomach so much as in nearly every other organ; in some cases the heart palpitates and is irregular; in others the kidneys are affected; in others the bowels are constipated, with headaches; still others are troubled with loss of flesh and appetite, with accumulation of gas, sour risings and heartburn.

Mr. A. W. Sharper of No. 61 Prospect St., Indianapolis, Ind., writes as follows: "A motive of pure gratitude prompts me to write these few lines regarding the new and valuable medicine, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I have been a sufferer from nervous dyspepsia for the last four years; have used various patent medicines and other remedies without any favorable result. They sometimes gave temporary relief until the effects of the medicine wore off. I attributed this to my sedentary habits, being a bookkeeper with little physical exercise, but I am glad to state that the tablets have overcome all these obstacles, for I have gained in flesh, sleep better, and am better in every way. The above is written not for notoriety, but is based on actual fact."

Respectfully yours,
A. W. SHARPER,
61 Prospect St., Indianapolis, Ind.

It is safe to say that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure any stomach weakness or disease except cancer of stomach. They cure sour stomach, gas, loss of flesh and appetite, sleeplessness, palpitation, heartburn, constipation and headache.

RAIL AND SHOP.

Converting Stock Cars Into Box Cars.

Work Upon the Forthcoming Railway Reunion Progressing—Local and Personal Gossip.

Now work in the east car shops of the Pittsburg is progressing rapidly and up to date there have been 116 gondolas completed, of which 100 are already in service. In addition to this work the men are engaged in making box cars out of the old styled stock cars and are handling about fifty of these each month. These old stock cars are perfectly sound, but on account of not having feed boxes and hay racks, there is no demand for them. With new roofs and tight siding they become the standard 60,000 pound box car now so generally used on the Pennsylvania lines and can go right into service.

THE RAILWAY REUNION.

John Brinsley, T. J. Rodabaugh, J. K. McCracken, P. J. Singleton, G. W. Lowe and Sylvester McMahon, who constitute the committee on arrangements for the Pennsylvania employe's reunion, met last night at the home of the former, 110 West Main street, and formulated a constitution and by-laws for the government of the organization it is proposed to effect in the interest of the forthcoming reunion. Other matters came before the meeting and were considered, but the committee has decided to remain silent upon them until they have been laid before the general meeting at the New Aveline house next Saturday. The reunion is now assured and it will be one of the grandest events of its character ever held in this city.

GRADE CROSSINGS EXPENSIVE.

The Boston and Albany and the New York, New Haven and Hartford have in the last three years expended several million dollars in raising or lowering their tracks below those of other railroads or the crossing of highways until now, on the Boston and Albany, there are but few highways that are crossed at grade, and none where the speed of trains is usually fast, and the New York, New Haven and Hartford has done much to relieve itself of this fruitful cause for damages. The accident at the crossing of the Philadelphia and Reading and the Pennsylvania roads, which occurred last summer, in which forty-four persons were killed, has set managers of railways to thinking of the matter, as over $1,000,000 in damages have been paid out and several claims are still unadjusted. It is coming to be a serious question with railway managers whether taking into consideration the increased freedom from accident and the resulting security to the traveling public, it would not be wiser to avoid grade crossing in the construction of railways than to take the financial consequences of maintaining them. England is practically without grade crossings, either at highways or at railway junctions, and as this country grows more populous, similar precautions will be found to be advantageous alike to the people and to the companies.

J. C. Peoples has returned from Decatur, Ind., where he was the guest of friends a few days. This morning he took his place in the Pittsburg planing mills.

The Erie Railway company has let the contract to double its tracks between Hackensack Meadows and Little Falls, N. J., a distance of fifteen miles, where traffic is very heavy.

George Schmoll, who recently assumed the office of general foreman of the Pennsylvania shops at Crestline, writes that he is well pleased with his position and is learning to like the town pretty well.

Freight officials state that all the cars moving east, whether for export or for New York and New England points, is seemingly being carried at the fifteen cent rate per 100 pounds, although the rate was intended to apply only to corn for export.

Foreman P. J. Sheid, of the Pittsburg round house, who has been sick for several days, was resting easy at the hour of the last report from his home today. Mr. Scheid is troubled with neuralgia, which is constantly changing location. Today it is located in his hips.

The Long Island road, which has a number of women station agents, has decided to dismiss them and substitute men. These women, in most cases, had sold tickets, done clerical work and the telegraphing, and had shown themselves to be fully as competent as men are.

The Nickel Plate is again considering the question of making through trains out of its mail trains No. 3 and 4 running them over the entire line. If this change is made the speed of the trains will be increased and they will be improved in other ways, making them as fine as any trains crossing the state.

Mrs. Peter Lill, whose husband died last week, requests THE SENTINEL to express her thanks to the neighbors, friends and members of the Catholic Benevolent Legion for the kindness shown her and her late husband during his sickness and death. Mr. Lill was a switchman and was employed in the Pennsylvania yards in this city.

The receivers of the Ohio Southern have abandoned the idea of paying the interest on the first mortgage bonds which fall due March 1. It is stated that the second mortgage bondholders have decided that it would be folly for them to reorganize the company, paying the interest on the first mortgage bonds, so deeply in debt is the road.

The Erie people have under contemplation the running of a train from Jersey City to Chicago by daylight, leaving New York at break of dawn and reaching Chicago at twilight, covering the 1,000 miles in eighteen hours, which would beat the record recently made by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, which a number of important roads are only waiting an opportunity to attempt.

PAPER PHOTO FRAMES.

How Clever Fingers May Construct These Decorative Trifles.

The pretty crinkled paper so much in vogue and which has been so lavishly used for lamp shades is the best of material for photograph frames, which, when they are complete, are not only effective, but have nothing tawdry or cheap looking about them, though only made of cardboard and paper. The stock in trade must include crinkled paper in different shades. Small rolls, called the "butterfly," may be bought for a penny each. These are sufficient for the flowers, while the large rolls, which are much broader and are used for covering the frames, cost 4 1-2d. each, a glue pot and glue, plenty of cardboard—old boxes come in very useful—some glasses cut by the local glazier, 5 inches by 4 1-2 inches for cabinet sized photograph, and lastly a few yards of different colored baby ribbon are all the materials that are necessary; hence for a few shillings a large quantity of these artistic frames may be made.

Take two pieces of cardboard and cut them the size you want the frame to be, say 10 inches by 12 inches. These will make the front and back of the frame. The front must have a small oblong part cut out a little smaller than the size of the photograph, so that the name of the photographer, etc., shall not show. Cut it a little to one side of the frame and also about two inches from the bottom. Now, cover the board with white or dark green crinkled paper or any other color. The paper should be cut larger than the cardboard and the overlapping portion glued to the reverse side, so that the glue will not show. After neatly cutting the paper at the corners in the oblong part where the photograph has to come glue it carefully at the back, and then it will be ready for the glass, which must also be glued on at each corner. While the front is drying the back must be covered in the same manner and a narrow piece of cardboard cut, say 1 1-2 inches broad, and also covered. This piece must be bent back a little, about two inches from the top, and fixed on the back with two paper fasteners to form the stand. The front and back are then ready to glue together. In doing so be careful to glue them at the side and top only, as the lower and narrower part at the bottom must be left open to slip the photograph in.

Now we come to the flowers. Those made in three shades of heliotrope crinkled paper have the effect of violets, those in blue of cornflowers, and other tints can be made to suggest various blooms. Cut out a great many small rounds of paper, about 1 1-2 inches in diameter, and snip them all around. Then, after smoothing them out, take hold of each one in the middle, and with a dexterous twist of the thumb and first finger the flower is made. Be careful not to crush the paper, or the flowers will look posed. To make the stalks, which are wonderfully natural looking, cut several rather narrow strips of dark green paper the wrong way of the crinkle, as they twist better, about 6 or 8 inches long, cut the top part a little wider, snip it three times to make three points, and it will form the calyx. Take hold of it with the left hand first finger and thumb and begin to twist it from the other end with the right hand first finger and thumb until it is within half an inch from the top or snipped part. Then put the merest spot of glue on the stem of each flower and twist it into each calyx.

It is pretty to tie them together in the bunches with wee bows of ribbon, perhaps a big one on the top or wide part of the frame, with some of the flowers hanging well down the side, and a small bunch at the corner of the bottom part. To keep them in place use glue. The flowers require great nicety of touch, as the tiniest drop of glue on them is sufficient. The frame is then complete, and the time required to make one is about a couple of hours, or even less when several are made at the same time.—London Queen.

An Effort to Explain.

"Wull," replied Mr. Dolan. "It's sometoimes harrud to kape the shtraight av a quarrel an be sure who's in the roight an who's in the wrong. A threaty makes it plain as day, an fur thot it's a good t'ing."

"Suppose you an mesilf was two governmints, an we made a threaty that we'll hov no foights—nothin but argumints—an suppose Oi git r'iled at somethin you do an shtart in to lick yez."

"You couldn't do it, Dolan."

"Oi moight thry."

THE BULBUL OF POHICK.

She Drops Into Poetry Once More and Specially Immortalizes Chickings.

"It is a long time since I have burst into song," writes the Bulbul of Pohick, "owing to the fact that we all have gone into the chicking business, which takes a great deal of time until it gets well under way. But do not think, gentle reader, that you cannot feed chickings and have thoughts at the same time. If I had not anything to do except to think and write down day in and day out, I would most likely turn out a great deal more poetry than what I do, but I think that maybe it is all for the best. Poems is not artificial products. Like eggs, they come in the natural course of events, and there is no use of trying to crowd the hen. The true poet always chooses the subject that is closest to his or her heart, and therefore the title of this piece is:

CHICKINS.

"O gentle two legged animals your feathers
Protect you in all kinds of weathers!
And then
The chilly winds of winter blow,
You do not care how much the wind do so,
But let them go ahead and blow,
And blow.
Sometimes nature sleevers on yon
Her showers the whole year through.
She furnishes you with a covering rare
With which to be happy and contentedly, and
Sunday of the most excellent
With grace all plumage your garb she fears,
And you are born with ruffles around your backs.
Therefore, O chickings, look up and cease to
[illegible]
Your lot is full of glee!
There is not any reason for declining
To change places with such as you, a cane,
To change places with such as me.
For you do not feel the cares of life
Nor the [illegible] of life and of living
Though this [illegible] and [illegible] to be.
You get your board and lodging free and no
[illegible]
With me it is a very different thing.
When the same has fed [illegible] bird do not sing.
And the mercury drops with me at [illegible]
I think of my own self, cold [illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
Who are [illegible] and [illegible] have been

He Drew Bones.

James Jones is an eccentric character of Anderson, Ind., who is just a little light in his top flat. He wanted to build a stable for his horse, but didn't have much idea of how large to make it. He was certain, however, that he didn't want it a bit larger than was necessary. A brilliant idea struck him—that is, brilliant for a man of his mental standing—and he proceeded to put it into effect. He drove a stake into the ground about on the spot where he wanted to build and tied the horse to it. Then he drove three other stakes, one at each corner of the horse. Then he nailed the side boards to the stakes, put a roof on and had a stable which was warranted to fit the horse without being too large. When he had it all finished, he started to take the horse out, but found that he had not builded wisely, in that he had made no door. He knocked the boards off one end of the building and made them into a swinging door, and then his stable suited him. As for the horse's probable opinion of it—well, that's another story.—Detroit Free Press.

LA GRIPPE

Pneumonia, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh and Asthma,

Are Being Cured Every Day By Hirons' Remedies—The Following Testimonials Prove the Facts.

Catarrh, one of the most troublesome and dangerous diseases known to mankind, can in the large majority of cases, be permanently cured. Many who were victims to that disease have been cured, and many more are being cured. Double treatment for Catarrh does its work effectually; clearing it out of the head, driving it out of the blood, where it exists, and ever will exist, unless the health destroying virus is eradicated from the system. Cure it. For it is not only a constant discomfort, but a perpetual menace to life. Use the New Asthma and Cough Cure as the blood purifier, and the Speedy Catarrh Cure for the nasal treatment for Catarrh, and soon those troublesome and distressing symptoms will disappear. The constant dripping of the mucous into the throat, and the pain in the head will cease. The hearing, sight, smell, and taste will be restored. Remember that a disease of long standing, one that has grown until it permeates every drop of blood in the body, cannot be cured within a few days or weeks, though the cleansing and healing processes begin with the first use of the two medicines.

HIRONS NEW ASTHMA AND COUGH CURE.

Asthma is a contraction of the nerves connected with the lungs, and is produced by three causes. First, by a sensitive area of mucous membrane. Second, an abnormally sensitive nerve center, and third, by an external irritant. With all three of these factors simultaneously, an attack of Asthma is produced. The disease often arises from Heart trouble, nasal catarrh and dyspepsia. Some of the symptoms, short, quick, difficult breathing, wheezing, with spells of coughing and suffocation. Asthma is supposed by some to be incurable, but the use of a few bottles of Hirons' New Asthma and Cough Cure will prove to the contrary.

A Word From Charles Yagerlehner, the Electrician.

Hirons Medicine Co., Room 3 Schmitz Block, Fort Wayne, Ind.:

DEAR SIRS—I have had a bad case of catarrh for 11 years. There was a constant dripping of mucous into my throat. Every morning my nose, head and throat would be filled up. After a terrible siege of trying to remove the mucous I would become so sick that it was with difficulty that I could eat my breakfast. I had no appetite. The disease developed into bronchitis and dyspepsia. I read of your Double Treatment for Catarrh, and after having used your remedies for a short time, I can cheerfully say that now my appetite is good, I have no more trouble with indigestion, my throat is well, and my general health has not been as good for years.

[Signed] CHARLES YAGERLEHNER.

Has Not Wheezed for Over Three Years.

Mr. Frank Joly, the well known Columbia street grocer, makes this statement over his signature: "I contracted Asthma about twelve years ago while working in a damp cellar. Many nights during that time I had to be propped up on my pillow in order that I might breathe. I used many remedies but received no permanent relief. Three years ago I tried Hirons' New Asthma and Cough Cure, and after having used two bottles of the remedy I was entirely cured. I have never wheezed since.

"[Signed.] FRANK JOLY,
"70 E. Columbia St."

Cured of Catarrh.

The Hirons Medicine Co., Room 3, Schmitz Block, City:

DEAR SIRS:—I am twenty-eight years old, had Catarrh all my life. For years my appetite was bad. I could not sleep well. I was becoming deaf. The disease in my head became so bad that one could hear the air escape from my ear. To sum it all up, the disease was killing me by inches. I heard of your double treatment for Catarrh and began the use of the medicine at once. After using eight bottles of your remedies, I am happy to say, that I have a good appetite, I sleep well, my deafness is cured, and I have gained sixteen and one half pounds in four months. I advise every one who has Catarrh to give your medicine a trial.

EMMA CAMPBELL,

"La Grippe Cough Cured."

Hirons' Medicine Co.:

DEAR SIRS:—I had a severe case of La Grippe some time ago and suffered with a terrible cough until I tried a bottle of your New Asthma and Cough Cure. I used only one bottle of the medicine and it cured me entirely. I have had no cough since.
